An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows: In the first paragraph of page 1, please insert, after "filed August 22, 2001" , "now U.S. Patent No. 6,663,824 B2."

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: All of instant claims 1-4 and 18 are allowable over the cited prior art at least because none of the cited prior art shows or fairly suggests the step of cutting steel with a cutting torch by aiming the cutting torch at a fixed point on the bottom surface of the steel to be cut and maintaining the aim of the cutting flame at this point while the cutting torch is rotated in an arcuate path around the steel piece to be cut to cut the steel piece, where this method minimizes slag adherence to the cut.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Each of Grohmann, Magnuson and Japanese'261, showing prior art torch cutting methods, although not showing or suggesting aiming the cutting flame at a fixed point on the bottom surface of the steel to be cut during the entire cutting process, as well as the parent of the instant application, Bissonnette'824 B2, are also cited.
